Battery

HTC Salsa uses a rechargeable battery. How long the battery can last before it needs recharging depends on how you use HTC Salsa. Among these are the features and accessories you use (for example, leaving your Bluetooth $^{\text{\tiny M}}$ connection always on uses more power). Long phone calls and frequent web browsing uses up a lot of battery power. Also, consider your location: poor signal strength from your mobile network and extreme temperature make the battery work harder.

Inserting the battery

- 1. Take the bottom cover off.
- 2. Open the battery compartment door.
- 3. Insert the battery (with its exposed copper contacts first) into the battery compartment.

Removing the battery

- 1. Take the bottom cover off.

Charging the battery

The battery is partially charged when shipped. Before you turn on and start using HTC Salsa, it is recommended that you charge the battery. Some batteries perform best after several full charge/discharge cycles.

- Only the power adapter and USB sync cable provided in the box must be used to charge the battery.
- Do not remove the battery from HTC Salsa while you are charging it using the power or car adapter.
- 1. Plug the power adapter into the USB connector.

2. Plug in the power adapter to an electrical outlet to start charging the battery.

As the battery is being charged, the notification LED shows a solid orange light. The light turns to solid green when the battery is fully charged.

When you charge the battery and HTC Salsa is on, the charging battery icon significant displayed in the status bar. After the battery has been fully charged, the charging battery icon turns to a full battery icon.

As a safety precaution, the battery stops charging when it overheats.

You can choose your language, how you want to connect to the Internet, and whether you want your current location to be automatically detected. If you still have personal contacts and calendar events stored on your old phone, you can easily transfer them to HTC Salsa through Bluetooth as well.

Just follow the onscreen instructions and you'll be up and running in no time.

Some features that need to connect to the Internet such as location-based services and auto-sync of your online accounts may incur extra data fees from your mobile operator. Don't worry. You can enable or disable them in settings later on.

If you enter the wrong PIN three times, your SIM card is blocked. Don't worry. Just contact your mobile operator and ask for the PUK (PIN Unblocking Key).

Accounts and sync

About online accounts

HTC Salsa can sync with popular online social networking and email accounts.

The information you can get includes:

- Gmail, Exchange ActiveSync, and other POP3/IMAP email.
- Google and Exchange ActiveSync contacts, as well as your friends' contact information in Facebook and their Twitter profiles.
- Calendar events from your Google Account(s), from Exchange ActiveSync, and from your Facebook account.
- Status updates and links shared by your friends and yourself on social networks such as Facebook and Twitter.
- Flickr[™] and Facebook photo uploads.

You can set up your Exchange ActiveSync and POP3/IMAP email accounts on HTC Salsa either in the Mail app or the Accounts & sync settings.

Synchronizing with a Google Account

Signing in to your Google Account lets you sync Gmail and your Google contacts and calendars between HTC Salsa and the Web. You also need to sign in to a Google Account to use Google apps such as Google Talk and Android Market.

If you skipped adding a Google Account when you first set up HTC Salsa, you may encounter problems when using some Google apps. If these problems persist, you may need to factory reset HTC Salsa and enter your Google Account details when you set up HTC Salsa again.

Adding more Google Accounts

You can add more than one Google Account. However, subsequent Google Accounts can only sync contacts, emails, and calendar events. Other Google services use the first Google Account you added.

- 1. From the Home screen, press \equiv , and then tap Settings > Accounts & sync.
- 2. Tap Add account > Google.
- 3. Follow the onscreen instructions to sign in to an account or create a new account.

If you don't have an alternate email address or cannot access the email account you used to create your Google Account, you can reset your Google Account after 24 hours by answering the security question for password recovery.

Using data services while roaming will be costly. Check with your mobile operator for data roaming rates before you use data roaming.

- 1. From the Home screen, press ≡ , and then tap Settings > Wireless & networks.
- 2. Tap Mobile networks, and then select the Data roaming check box.

Select the Data roaming sound check box if you'd like HTC Salsa to play a sound so you'll know when it's connecting to a roaming network.

Wi-Fi

To use Wi-Fi, you need access to a wireless access point or "hotspot". The availability and strength of the Wi-Fi signal will vary depending on objects, such as buildings or simply a wall between rooms, the Wi-Fi signal has to pass through.

Turning Wi-Fi on and connecting to a wireless network

- 1. From the Home screen, press =, and then tap Settings > Wireless & networks.
- 2. Select the Wi-Fi check box to turn Wi-Fi on. HTC Salsa then scans for available wireless networks.
- 3. Tap Wi-Fi settings. The network names and security settings of detected Wi-Fi networks are displayed in the Wi-Fi networks section.
- 4. If the wireless network you want to connect to is not in the list of detected networks, scroll down the screen, and then tap Add Wi-Fi network. Enter the wireless network settings, and then tap Save.
- 5. Tap the Wi-Fi network you want to connect to. If you selected an open network, you will be automatically connected to the network.
- 6. If you selected a network that is secured with WEP, enter the key and then tap Connect.

When HTC Salsa is connected to the wireless network, the Wi-Fi icon appears in the status bar and tells you the approximate signal strength (number of bands that light up).

The next time HTC Salsa connects to a previously accessed secured wireless network, you won't be asked to enter the key or other security information again, unless you reset HTC Salsa to its factory default settings.

Connecting to a Wi-Fi network with EAP-TLS security

Depending on the type of VPN you're using at work, you may be asked to enter your login credentials and install security certificates before you can connect to your company's local network. You can get this information from your network administrator.

Also, HTC Salsa must first establish a Wi-Fi or data connection before you can start a VPN connection.

- 1. From the Home screen, press \equiv , and then tap Settings > Security.
- 2. Tap Set password.
- 3. Enter a new password for the credential storage.
- 4. Scroll down and confirm the password, and then tap OK.

Connecting HTC Salsa to the Internet through a computer (Internet Pass-through)

If you don't have a data plan for HTC Salsa or you don't have access to a Wi-Fi network, you can still go online on HTC Salsa by using your computer's Internet connection.

Before you can use your computer as a modem, be sure to install HTC Sync on your computer first.

1. Make sure your computer is connected to the Internet.

Two things to check for your computer's Internet connection. One, you may need to turn off your local network's firewall. Two, if your computer connects to the Internet via PPP (e.g. Dial UP, xDSL, or VPN), Internet Pass-through will only support TCP protocol.

- Connect HTC Salsa to the computer using the provided USB cable.
- 3. On the Choose a connection type screen, select Internet pass-through, and then tap Done.

Using HTC Salsa as a wireless router

The pairing and connection status is displayed below the hands-free headset or car kit name in the Bluetooth devices section. When the Bluetooth headset or car kit is connected to HTC Salsa, the Bluetooth connected icon is displayed in the status bar. Depending on the type of headset or car kit you have connected, you can then start using the headset or car kit to listen to music and/or make and receive phone calls.

Reconnecting a headset or car kit

Normally, you can easily reconnect your headset by switching on Bluetooth on HTC Salsa, and then turning on the headset. However, you might have to connect manually if your headset has been used with another Bluetooth device.

- 1. From the Home screen, press ≡ , and then tap Settings > Wireless & networks.

Where sent information is saved

When you send information using Bluetooth, the location where it's saved depends on the type of information and the receiving device.

If you send a calendar event or contact, it is normally added directly to the corresponding application on the receiving device. For example, if you send a calendar event to a compatible phone, the event is shown in that phone's calendar application.

If you send another file type to a Windows computer, it is normally saved in the Bluetooth Exchange folder within your personal document folders.

- On Windows XP, the path may be: C:\Documents and Settings\[your username]\My Documents\Bluetooth Exchange
- On Windows Vista, the path may be: C:\Users\[your username]\Documents
- On Windows 7, the path may be: C:\Users\[your username]\My Documents \Bluetooth Exchange Folder

If you send a file to another device, the saved location may depend on the file type. For example, if you send an image file to another mobile phone, it may be saved in a folder named "Images".

- 10. When a file is transferred, a notification is displayed. To open the file immediately, slide down the Notifications panel, and then tap the relevant notification.

When you open a received file, what happens next depends on the file type:

- Media files and documents are usually opened directly in a compatible app. For example, if you open a music track, it starts playing in the Music app.
- For a vCalendar file, choose the calendar where you want to save the event, and then tap Import. The vCalendar is added to your Calendar events.
- For a vCard contact file, you can choose to import one, several, or all of those contacts to your contacts list.
